

III. MAKING THE BORDER

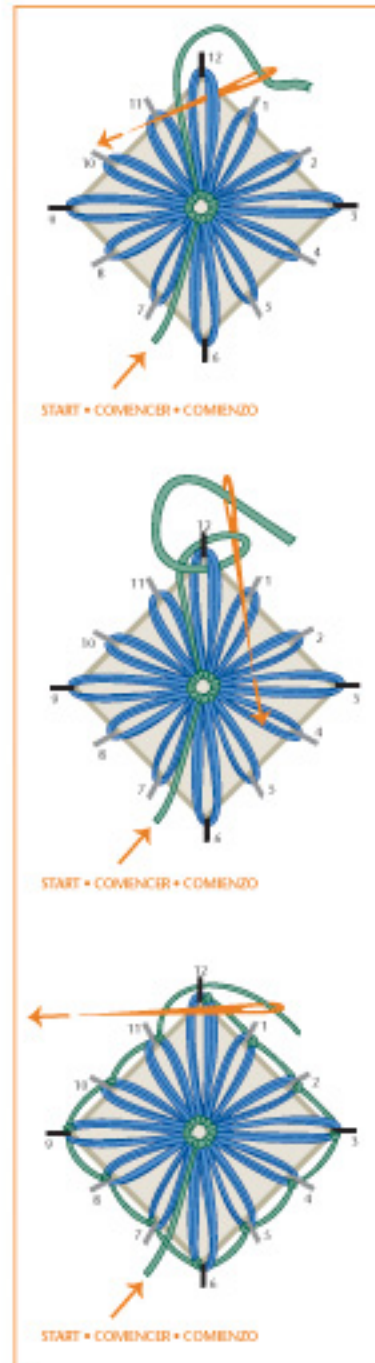

Now it's time to finish the border of the rosette. Start the border by bringing the yarn out to the left side of the prong in the one o'clock position. Insert the needle in the center of the looped petal. Pull the yarn through carefully, being sure to leave a loop at the prong. Bring your needle through the loop you've just made FROM THE BACK and pull yarn through top, make a knot. Continue on to the two o'clock prong and repeat step. Always working clockwise, repeat this step at each petal. You will make a total of 13 lock stitches; 12 stitches for each petal and the 13th lock stitch will finish the outer border. When you have completed the last locked stitch, trim the yarn and twist the tool stem to release the finished rosette from the tool.

III. MAKING THE BORDER (continued)

Note: The rosette facing you on the loom is the right side. Keep this in mind when joining rosettes together.

IV. JOINING ONE ROUND ROSETTE TO ANOTHER

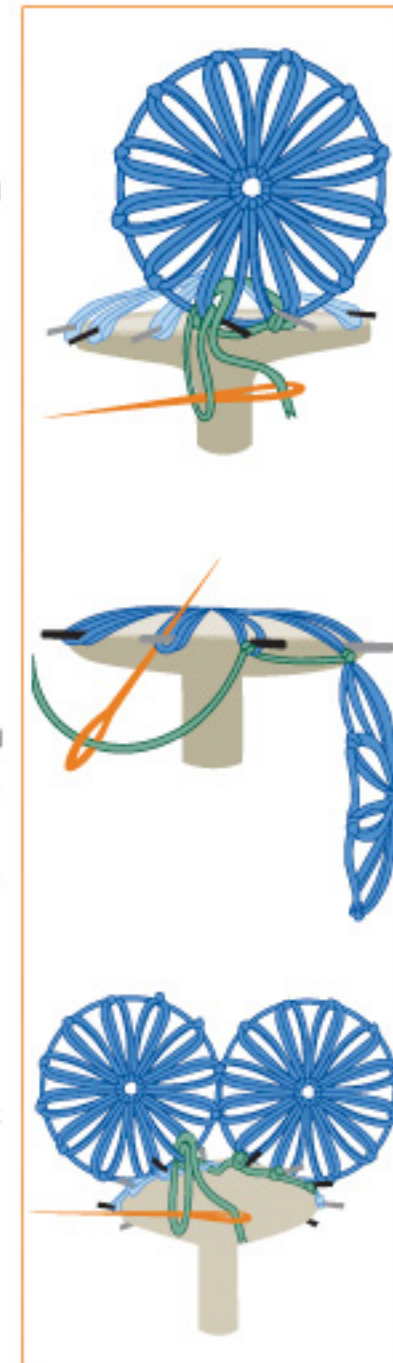

The easiest method for joining rosettes together is to join them using the Knit-Wit tool. Rosettes can also be made individually and stitched together.

To join your rosettes together using the tool, begin a second rosette and finish the center. Now take the previously completed rosette and place it right sides together with the rosette on the tool, matching petal to petal. Bring the needle up between the looped petals on the tool then between the looped petals of the top rosette. Pull the yarn through and make a lock stitch.

After completing the two lock stitches, move the top rosette back off the tool and complete the outer border of the unfinished rosette. A total of 11 individual lock stitches will be completed. Trim the yarn close to the lock stitch and twist the tool stem to release the two rosettes from the tool.

HOW TO JOIN MULTIPLE ROSETTES

To join multiple round rosettes, place the two rosettes you are joining to the unfinished rosette on the Knit-Wit tool, placing right sides together. Secure rosettes in four places as indicated in the diagram.

IV. JOINING ONE SQUARE ROSETTE TO ANOTHER

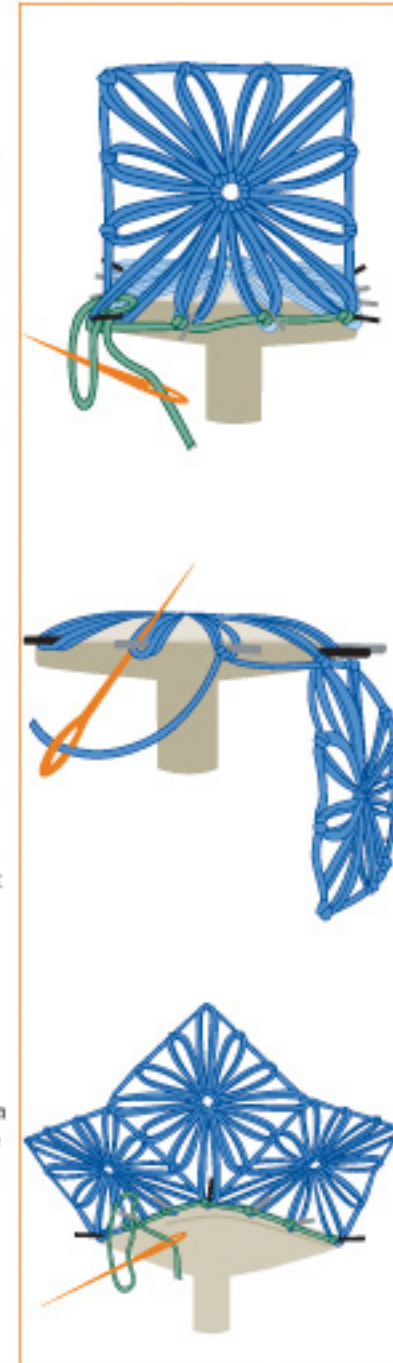

To join rosettes made with the square tool, place your finished rosette right side down on top of the rosette in progress, matching one petal above the other and make a lock stitch. Working from corner to corner make a total of four lock stitches. Make sure to catch both sets of petals while making each lock stitch.

After completing the four lock stitches, move the top rosette back off the tool and complete the outer border of unfinished rosette. A total of 9 individual lock stitches and 4 joining lock stitches will be completed. Trim the yarn close to the lock stitch and twist the tool stem to release the rosettes from the tool.

HOW TO JOIN MULTIPLE ROSETTES

To join multiple square rosettes, place the two rosettes you are joining to the unfinished rosette on the Knit-Wit tool, placing right sides together. Secure rosettes in seven places as indicated in the diagram.

For either shape, once the rosettes have been joined to the rosette on the tool, continue to stitch the outer border following a clockwise pattern. Trim yarn close to the last lock stitch and release rosette from tool.
